

Family violence session on October 25

NESAY (North East Support and Action for Youth) will be presenting a free community information session about family violence and young people in the Ovens Murray region at 8am on Wednesday, October 25 at Gateway Health Wangaratta, not October 26 as previously advertised.

NESAY's programs work within local communities, schools, families and with individual young people, who may be at risk of school disengagement, family breakdown, at risk of entering child protection system, family violence and be homeless or at risk of homelessness.

This session is suitable for community members who wish to learn more about the services available in Ovens Murray for those experiencing or at risk of experiencing family violence.

The session is free to attend.

Register via www.eventbrite.com.au/e/family-violence-community-breakfast-information-session-nesay-tickets-38521190919 or contact Jasmine Isaacs at Women's Health on 5722 3009.